- 3.2 An applicant shall satisfy the RDC that he/she has sufficient command of the language (normally Chinese or English) in which the course of study and research is to be undertaken and in which the thesis is to be presented. At the time of admission, the RDC shall stipulate whether the thesis is to be presented in Chinese or English.
- 3.3 No applicant who is already a candidate for a research degree at this or another institution may be admitted to the programme, unless the express permission of the RDC is obtained.

- 4.2 When imposing conditions in offers of admission, Schools would consider carefully to ensure fairness to the candidates in terms of the impact such conditions may have on the duration of their study. Offers so made will be reported to the Senate.
- 4.3 The RDC shall determine the date of commencement of study. For the PhD and MPhil programmes, the date shall normally be the commencement date of the Autumn or Spring term after the date of approval of the application by the RDC and payment of all fees due. For professional doctoral degree programmes involving coursework, the date of commencement of study shall normally be the commencement date of the Autumn term.

- 4.4 PhD/MPhil candidates, regardless of whether they are full-time or part-time, are regarded as provisionally registered until their candidature is confirmed via the Candidature Confirmation process as stipulated in Section 4.

- 2.3 A registered student may present a thesis only after the expiry of the minimum period of the submission of the thesis for examination.
- 2.4 A student who anticipates that the thesis cannot be submitted by the expiry of the maximum period of the submission of the thesis for examination should apply for extension of the period at least three months in advance. The application should be submitted via the Principal Research Supervisor (endorsed by the relevant SRDC) who will fill in his/her recommendations. The RDC will consider such applications and decide on behalf of the Senate. The RDC will stipulate the final date after which presentation of the thesis will not be permitted.
- 2.5 On receipt of notice of intention to present a thesis, the Registrar shall request the Principal Research Supervisor to complete a certificate on whether the thesis is prima facie worthy of examination. The Principal Research Supervisor may so confirm in writing or dissociate himself/herself from the thesis. The Principal Research Supervisor will also be requested to certify that the student has complied with any conditions laid down at registration or re-registration. The Registry will then inform the Dean and arrange for the thesis to be examined.
- 2.6 Having given proper notice, a student shall subsequently submit to the Registrar a soft copy and four unbound copies of a thesis embodying the results of the study and research undertaken during the programme. For this purpose, 'unbound' means that the pages need not be bound with a hard cover, but must be fastened in a manner which is secure and in which the pages will not detach. The thesis shall include:
 - (a) a certificate from the Principal Research Supervisor to the effect that the thesis is prima facie worthy of examination;
 - (b) a short abstract of approximately 500 words summarizing the contents of the thesis; and
 - (c) a certificate signed by the student to the effect that the thesis, which embodies the results of the study and research, has been composed by him/herself and has not been presented to any other institution for a higher degree or any other award.

- 2.7 Each copy of the thesis presented shall be in the form prescribed in the guidelines below. In addition, thesis must meet the University's English language standard expectations, which must clearly convey its content and meanings; follow a clear and appropriate organization; be fully spell-checked to remove typographical errors and any other labelling/formatting errors; and have an accurate and complete set of references and appendices conforming to the University's Style Guide published by the Office for Advancement of Learning and Teaching.

3 Contents and Length of Theses

- 3.1 The length of the thesis for research degrees shall comply with the following guidelines:
- MPhil thesis: 20,000 to 40,000 English words or a maximum of 60,000 Chinese characters (excluding references, tables and appendices)
 - Doctoral thesis: 50,000 to 100,000 English words or a maximum of 150,000 Chinese characters (excluding references, tables and appendices)
- 3.2 If the length of the thesis is not in line with the above guidelines, flexibility may be allowed with good justifications, subject to the judgement of the Principal Research Supervisor. Any deviation from the above guidelines will require the approval of the RDC based on the recommendation of the SRDC and the Principal Research Supervisor.
- 3.3 A student may not present, as the main content of the thesis, work previously accepted for a degree or other award of the University or any other institution, but may incorporate such work or material in the thesis if he/she specifies the work or material which has been so incorporated.
- 3.4 If any of the work presented has been carried out in collaboration with another person, the student should state clearly and fully the extent of the collaboration, and shall clearly identify in the thesis the parts of the thesis which are not the result of his/her own work.
- 3.5 The thesis shall include a detailed statement of the sources of information which the student has made use of in the preparation of the thesis, the extent to which they have been used and the nature of the use made of them. Where written material directly attributable to others has been incorporated, this shall be specified in the statement.

- 5.2 It may be appropriate for a further copy or copies to be presented by the candidate to any collaborating or cooperating establishments.
- 5.3 The thesis submitted by a candidate for the degree has the status of an unpublished manuscript. The author remains the copyright holder and deposit of a copy in the Library or the School does not transfer the copyright.

However, the author of a thesis for the degree deposited in the University Library may apply to the RDC for the imposition of a period of restriction of up to two years in the first instance during which time the author's permission is necessary for access to the thesis. Such an application must contain specific reasons to support it. The period of restriction may be extended for further periods each not exceeding one year at the RDC's discretion provided that the total period of restriction does not normally exceed five years.

6 Submission of Electronic Theses to the University Library

Students are required to submit the electronic version of their theses to the University Library for posting on the Electronic Theses and Dissertations (ETD) system. The ETD system makes use of Web technology to facilitate access and retrieval of the theses and dissertations by the University community. The following specifies the requirements of the electronic files to be submitted by students.

6.1 General requirements

- Submit the electronic files in the latest storage media, e.g. CD-ROM, DVD-ROM, USB flash drive, etc. All submitted media will not be returned to the student.
- The electronic files should be organized according to the structure of the original thesis. For example, the files might include 1-cover.doc, 2-abstract.doc, 3-table_of_content.doc, 4-chapter1.doc, 5-chapter2.doc, 6-references.doc, etc.
- For electronic files with a complicated structure, please include a 'readme.txt' text file to cover the following:
 - (a) Description about the directory structure of the thesis files in the submitted media.
 - (b) Notes about special programs, if any, required for accessing the files, e.g. information about the operation system or software required to open specific files of the theses.
 - (c) Notes that help Library staff during the conversion of the files, e.g. "abc.avi file is used for the xyz part of Chapter N".

6.2 File format requirements

- (a) The electronic files should be supported by the latest Microsoft Windows (Chinese or English) and Microsoft Office. File formats such as doc/docx, xls/xlsx, ppt/pptx, plain text are preferred.
- (b) Graphic file format should be supported by the latest Microsoft Office, e.g. jpeg, gif, png and tiff.

- (c) Import special formula or content to a Microsoft Office document. If possible, use MS Equation Editor to create equations.
- (d) Special characters or symbols that are not supported by Microsoft Office should be converted to image format.
- (e) Multimedia files should be compatible with popular multimedia players such as Windows Media Player, RealPlayer, etc.
- (f) If other file formats have to be used, follow the widely-used international standards. Information about the files, such as software and vendor details, should be provided.
- (g) Files that need a server program to run would not be accepted or converted.
- (h) Adopt the native file extensions for the submitted files. Files submitted in an unacceptable or corrupted format will be rejected.

6.3 Others

- (a) The submitted electronic files would be converted by the Library before they can be posted on the ETD system. The Library follows the principle that there will be no change in the content or data loss because of the conversion. No conversion will be done if there is such a risk. The Library reserves the right to decide to convert or not to convert the work or parts of it. Students should note that the pagination, the layout and the file/path/URL names may be changed because of the conversion. However, paragraphing and chapter breakdown should remain the same.
- (b) The technical requirements above will be updated as and when necessary to keep pace with technology change. Students are encouraged to contact the Library at the time of thesis/dissertation preparation.

6 Examination Arrangement and Results

1 Appointment of Examiners

- 1.1 After the candidate has given notice of his/her intention to present a thesis, the RDC, on the recommendation of the SRDC, shall appoint an Award Committee. The Award Committee shall be chaired by the Dean of the School (except where the Dean is the Principal Research Supervisor, in which case, a senior academic shall be appointed as Chair by the RDC) and consist of at least three examiners nominated by the School, including two internal examiners one of whom shall be the candidate's Principal Research Supervisor without voting rights, and one external examiner who has had no supervisory relationship with the student. If the appointed External Examiner is based overseas and cannot attend the oral examination, an additional local examiner may be appointed to act for the External Examiner on that occasion. The Guidelines for the appointment of External Examiners clearly set out further requirements.
- 1.2 The School should also identify the subject area of research of the student and the proposed thesis title for inclusion in the award certificate.

2 Oral Examination

- 2.1 Thesis will be dispatched in hardcopies to Examiners after they have been received from the student. The Examiners shall consider the thesis presented by the student.
- 2.2 Each Examiner shall submit a report on the thesis to the Award Committee Chairman, through the Registrar, within approximately four to six weeks in normal circumstances, upon receipt of the thesis.
- 2.3 The Examiners shall normally jointly examine the student orally on the subject of the thesis and on the area of study within which the thesis falls.
- 2.4 The Examiners may at their discretion require a student to present him/herself for a written or practical examination or other test.
- 2.5 After the Examiners' reports on the thesis are received, the Registry will arrange an oral examination for the student. The oral examination can take the form of telephone or online conferencing, where possible, if the External Examiner is overseas and no local examiner has been appointed in place of the External Examiner for the purpose of the examination. The Award Committee will meet and the student may be required to amend the thesis.
- 2.6 Oral examination is compulsory, while there is no formal time limit, it ranges from one to three hours. The language used at the oral examination should be the same as the language used in the thesis. A consensus is required for all decisions. The oral examination comprises but is not limited to the following parts in the sequence as determined by individual Award Committee:
 - A closed session in which the Award Committee holds a preliminary discussion in the student's absence;

- Full oral presentation by the student to the Award Committee in attendance;
- Open question period from the Award Committee in attendance;
- A closed session in which the Award Committee assesses the thesis and the student's performance in the student's absence;
- A closed session in which the Award Committee informs the student of the Award Committee recommendations.

3 Report of the Award Committee

- 3.1 After the examination has been completed, the Award Committee shall report to the RDC via the SRDC.
- 3.2 If the Examiners are unanimous in their recommendation, the Award Committee's report will be given to the SRDC, which will make a recommendation on the examination results to the RDC for approval.
- 3.3 If there is disagreement amongst Award Committee members concerning the performance of the candidate, the Examiners should submit individual reports to the SRDC. An additional External Examiner may then be appointed who will be required to make a report and recommendation to the SRDC.
- 3.4 After considering the report of the Award Committee and of the additional External Examiner, the SRDC will make a final recommendation on the examination result for consideration by the RDC.
- 3.5 In its report, the Award Committee shall make one of the following recommendations:
 - (a) that the degree be awarded; or
 - (b) that the degree be awarded subject to the candidate making minor corrections to the thesis (where the corrections are not so substantial as to justify a recommendation that the student should submit a revised thesis); or
 - (c) that the degree not be awarded but that the candidate be permitted to submit a revised thesis and to present him/herself for examination again on a subsequent occasion; or
 - (d) that the degree not be awarded and that the candidate's registration be terminated.
- 3.6 The Report of the Award Committee shall be confidential to the SRDC and to the RDC.
- 3.7 Where a recommendation is made under para 3.5(b), the Chair of the Award Committee shall be responsible for confirming to the SRDC that the corrections required by the Award Committee have been satisfactorily carried out.
- 3.8 In the event of the SRDC recommending to the RDC that a student be permitted to present a revised thesis and to present himself/herself for examination again on a subsequent occasion in the terms of para 3.5(c), the SRDC shall also recommend the further work required and shall specify the period, which shall normally be no longer than 18 months, within which the thesis may be represented. The Registry shall make the decision of the RDC known to the student.
- 3.9 The SRDC shall not recommend to the RDC that the degree be awarded unless the Award Committee has reported:

- (a) that the student possesses a sound general knowledge of the area of study within which the subject of the thesis falls; and
- (b) that the candidate has critically investigated and evaluated the approved topic, has acquired competence in the methods of research and scholarship, has displayed sustained independent effort and has lucidly presented the results of his/her work in the thesis; and
- (c) that the candidate has satisfied the examiners in the oral examination; and
- (d) that, in the opinion of the award committee, the award of the degree is merited.

4 Re-examination

- 4.1 Where a student has been permitted to present a revised thesis and to present him/herself for examination again on a subsequent occasion, the arrangements and rules for the re- examination would be as if the candidate was being examined for the first time, unless the RDC has, on the original recommendation of the Award Committee and the SRDC, excused the student from a further oral examination.
- 4.2 The Examiners for the re-examination shall be the same as those for the first examination unless otherwise determined by the RDC on the recommendation of the SRDC.
- 4.3 A candidate for re-examination shall pay the prescribed re-examination fee, if any, at the time of giving notice of intention to submit a revised thesis.
- 4.4 The re-examination should follow the procedures as given in sections 2 and 3 above unless specified otherwise by the RDC.
- 4.5 If the candidate is required to make minor corrections to the thesis prior to the granting of the award, the Chair of the Award Committee shall be responsible for confirming to the SRDC that the corrections required by the Award Committee have been satisfactorily carried out.
- 4.6 A candidate who has failed to satisfy the Examiners in re-examination shall not be permitted to present him/herself for re-examination on a further occasion.

5 Appeals

- 5.1 A student who wishes to appeal against the decision of the RDC to terminate registration, or in an examination or re- examination shall do so in writing to the Registrar, within 10 calendar days of the date of receipt of notification of the decision. The Registrar shall report the matter to the RDC.
- 5.2 In case of appeal, the Registrar shall direct the appeal to the Dean or, where the Dean is a supervisor, to a senior academic appointed by the RDC for investigation. The appeal shall be considered only if there has been a material administrative error, or some other material irregularity or new information/justifications. The Registrar will report the matter to the RDC for consideration together with the Dean/RDC nominee's recommendation. The decision of the RDC shall be final.
- 5.3 For an appeal against a course result (i.e. for coursework subject), a student should refer to the assessment and examinations section of the Student Handbook of the respective course and submit "appeals against course result" form by the deadline stipulated in the Student Handbook.

7 Conferment of the Degree

- 7.1 The date of award by the Council shall be considered as the date on which a degree is conferred.
- 7.2 The University confers awards three times a year, in March, July and September respectively. Graduates will be invited to attend the Congregation within the same year.

Student Activities and Support

The University encourages students to organize student-related activities to enrich their campus life and broaden their horizons. The University provides financial and other support to student-related activities through the Committee on Student Affairs and the Student Affairs Office (SAO). Currently there are around 25 Student Societies which have been granted HKMU recognition and supported with the University funding. Students are encouraged to participate in diverse activities from programme-based and interest-based Student Societies.

The HKMU Students' Union aims to enhance the quality of campus life experience for all students.

A Student Society Centre has been established on the Main Campus to provide a venue for student activities. Only the office-bearers of recognized Student Societies are eligible to use the Centre.

Students can contact SAO staff (tel.: 2768 6710 or email: ssa@hkmu.edu.hk) for enquiries related to student activities.

Students with Disabilities or Special Educational Needs

HKMU encourages students with disabilities or special educational needs to participate in its courses to the maximum of their ability. We have taken practical steps to help students with disabilities or special educational needs. The Committee on Student Affairs advises the University on the adequacy of the services provided and ensures that individual needs are met as far as possible.

Before enrolling in a course, students should read the requirements and course information in the Guidebook, the Course Guides or course outlines, and carefully consider their study load. They are encouraged to seek further advice from their respective Course Leader(s) or calling the Research Postgraduate Team of the Registry at 2768 6606.

The University provides services to students with disabilities or special educational needs. Services include class and campus support for study and assessment accommodation, and special examination arrangements (see Section 9 'Assessment and Examinations'), subject to the University's discretion. Students have to apply for the support services via Student Affairs Office within three weeks after the start of the term and should indicate the type of disabilities or special educational needs in the application/registration form to facilitate the University in providing the appropriate services for them. The University will try to provide the required services according to circumstances; however, it may not always be possible to do so if there are insufficient resources or other constraints. If applicants do not indicate their disabilities or special educational needs in their applications or do not provide the necessary medical proof(s) and supporting document(s), they might not be able to obtain timely support services from the University should needs arise during their studies.

HKMU allows some flexibility in terms of arrangements for students with disabilities or special educational needs. However, students with disabilities or special educational needs will be assessed by the same academic performance measures as other HKMU students.

The Student Affairs Office is responsible for the overall coordination and provision of services for students with disabilities or special educational needs. Please contact the staff at 2768 6059 or email dl_sen@hkmu.edu.hk or fax 2712 2301 for details.
