

HKT Group - Campus Recruitment 2022

Who we are?

HKT is Hong Kong's premier telecommunications service provider and a leading innovator with a mission to design and deliver cutting-edge technology for smart living. A household name under PCCW Group, HKT offers a range of innovative services and media content across its fixed-line, broadband, mobile communication, and media entertainment platforms, such as NETVIGATOR, 1010, csl., and Now TV.

HKT delivers end-to-end integrated solutions employing emerging technologies such as 5G, cloud computing, Internet of Things (IoT), artificial intelligence (AI), FinTech and HealthTech to accelerate the digital transformation among a network of enterprises in a fast-evolving global landscape.

With a strong global presence made up of 15,900 staff, HKT is proudly anchored in Hong Kong with a drive to actively contribute to the metropolitan's ongoing developments into a world-leading smart city. HKT believes in engaging top youth talents to create a digitally-empowered future for the next generation.

What is in it for you?

Become true changemakers amid business challenges born out of the digital transformation era. Kickstarting your career with HKT means you will get a chance to participate in network and transmission projects to design, build, and manage operations for the future smart networks in a series of exciting Hong Kong Smart City projects.

Diverse job experience

Gain diverse, valuable on-the-job experience from working across fields and between stakeholders. You will be involved in the development of various network security projects, cloud platforms, DevOps, A.I., IoT, software and applications, and data science while managing the needs of enterprise and consumers.

Define your own future

Soar with a community of aspiring tech leaders with peer support to collaboratively design new products and services for the next generation.

Unlock achievements

Stay up-to-date with insights and resources made available via HKT's quadruple-play platforms to up-skill yourself in developing IT and technological skills across multiple networks and applications with varying customer markets as you continue to advance in your career.

Promote personal development

Support your pursuit for well-rounded personal growth with staff leisure activities, mentoring, and welfare resources.

Drive social impacts

Join a Hong Kong-leading TMT company in its broader mission to do social good with multiple-impact driven Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives.

PCCW Group - Campus Recruitment 2022

Who we are?

PCCW is a Hong Kong-based global company with services that span telecommunications, media, IT solutions, property development, investment, among other high-growth industries.

Taking roots from its earlier reputation as a traditional telecom, media and technology company based in Hong Kong, PCCW has been rising as one to evolve into an increasingly customer-centric regional digital service provider now more broadly than ever in the APAC region.

Fundamental to the PCCW's legacy is PCCW Solutions, the Company's IT flagship that has been a trusted digital transformation partner to the city's most notable enterprises and the public service sector. PCCW Solutions is a market leader in Southeast Asia with a regional headquarters in Singapore.

More recently, PCCW is known as the creative owner of Viu and ViuTV, a free TV service in Hong Kong. Viu is a fast-growing over-the-top (OTT) video platform that has taken the local entertainment scene by storm in Hong Kong and Southeast Asia with premium content, localized or otherwise. Currently serving 16 markets across Asia, the Middle East and South Africa, Viu has a total of 49 million monthly active users under its belt as of June 2021, marking itself as a leading OTT video platform in the region.

PCCW also offers a unique quadruple-play experience and other digital services through HKT, Hong Kong's leading telecommunications service provider.

PCCW's pioneering position is cemented with growing positive impacts to this day. The Group believes in engagement and inputs from youth to collectively make possible a holistic and dynamic future.

What is in it for you?

Become the leading force for the world's fast-growing digital landscape as you gain first-hand, functional know-how across multiple disciplines. You will be involved in various network security projects, cloud platforms, DevOps, A.I., IoT, software and app development, and data science while meeting the needs of enterprise and consumers.

Define your own future

Soar with a community of aspiring tech leaders with peer support to collaboratively design new products and services for the next generation.

Unlock achievements

Stay current with ample learning resources including PCCW's unique quadruple-play platforms to up-skill yourself in developing IT and technological skills across multiple networks and applications among diverse customer markets to support your career advancement.

PCCW Group - Campus Recruitment 2022

Who we are?

PCCW is a Hong Kong-based global company with services that span telecommunications, media, IT solutions, property development, investment, among other high-growth industries.

Taking roots from its earlier reputation as a traditional telecom, media and technology company based in Hong Kong, PCCW has been rising as one to evolve into an increasingly customer-centric regional digital service provider now more broadly than ever in the APAC region.

Fundamental to the PCCW's legacy is PCCW Solutions, the Company's IT flagship that has been a trusted digital transformation partner to the city's most notable enterprises and the public service sector. PCCW Solutions is a market leader in Southeast Asia with a regional headquarters in Singapore.

More recently, PCCW is known as the creative owner of Viu and ViuTV, a free TV service in Hong Kong. Viu is a fast-growing over-the-top (OTT) video platform that has taken the local entertainment scene by storm in Hong Kong and Southeast Asia with premium content, localized or otherwise. Currently serving 16 markets across Asia, the Middle East and South Africa, Viu has a total of 49 million monthly active users under its belt as of June 2021, marking itself as a leading OTT video platform in the region.

PCCW also offers a unique quadruple-play experience and other digital services through HKT, Hong Kong's leading telecommunications service provider.

PCCW's pioneering position is cemented with growing positive impacts to this day. The Group believes in engagement and inputs from youth to collectively make possible a holistic and dynamic future.

What is in it for you?

Become the leading force for the world's fast-growing digital landscape as you gain first-hand, functional know-how across multiple disciplines. You will be involved in various network security projects, cloud platforms, DevOps, A.I., IoT, software and app development, and data science while meeting the needs of enterprise and consumers.

Define your own future

Soar with a community of aspiring tech leaders with peer support to collaboratively design new products and services for the next generation.

Unlock achievements

Stay current with ample learning resources including PCCW's unique quadruple-play platforms to up-skill yourself in developing IT and technological skills across multiple networks and applications among diverse customer markets to support your career advancement.

Promote personal development

Support your pursuit for well-rounded personal growth with staff leisure activities, mentoring, and welfare resources.

Drive social impacts

Join a global company in its broader mission to do social good with multiple impact-driven Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives.
