

Hi, All students (Class A & Class B) of NURSN103F:

Nice to meet you!

Thank you for joining NURSN103F Fundamental Nursing Practice. As a new comer to HKMU, there is some information concerning this course would like to draw your attention:

1. Our course communication channel is mainly via OLE (Online Learning Environment). When you have the user account and password, you can get into the OLE platform, choose the NURSN103F domain to access the updated information, e.g. the course outlines, course news, handout and relevant notes etc.
2. The course outline and timetable of semester I can also be accessed in OLE. To facilitate this transition period, I also attached them to you along with this news.
3. The course coordinator of class A is Irene Wong and for class B is Amy Lee. For special circumstances, can contact the related course coordinator accordingly.

We will have a short briefing for N103F on 30/8 Inauguration Day, hope will see you all on that day!

Best Wishes
